

Dear Parents,

Welcome to the University Preparatory Band II/Intermediate Band. I am very excited to have your child in the band program. Your child can look forward to a year of new challenges, new friends, new activities, and rewarding musical experiences. I believe participation in music will enhance your child's education and self-esteem, and will enrich your child's life throughout the school year and beyond.

This letter is designed to give you, as parents, the information you will need to ensure your child's success. I look forward to working with you and your child this year!

Band II/Intermediate Band: This class is for students with prior instrumental music experience who wish to continue learning that instrument.

Students are to bring their instruments to school on Monday, August 14th. Those students who do not have an instrument at this time need to get one as quickly as possible. If you have any questions about this please feel free to contact me.

Although I cannot recommend specific music stores, the following music stores sell, rent, and repair the instruments they carry. Other music stores, pawn shops, and retail stores sometimes have less expensive instruments, but they are often low-quality instruments which are not a good value, and some do not offer any kind of repair if something is wrong with the instrument. Please contact me if you have questions or need assistance.

Recommended Instrument Brands: Choosing a musical instrument can be a difficult undertaking. Here is a partial listing of reputable brands and models. These are brands that I have found to be reliable when put through years of use. If you encounter another brand that is not on the list, please feel free to contact me for assistance before you rent or purchase that instrument. Buyer Beware - if the price of an instrument sounds too good to be true, it probably is!

Special Note

Folding Music Stand: This will enable students to practice at home with correct posture.

Metronome: Provides a steady beat for practice. This can also be a free app on their phone. This is highly recommended for all students.

Tips for Success: Parents, in order for your child to succeed, encourage your child to

- 1 Bring instrument, equipment, book and their music to school each day.
2. Have a sharp pencil, with and eraser, on their stands at all times.

3 Be prepared for rehearsal by practicing the assigned music and exercises on a daily basis.

4 Instruments cases should be clearly marked with the student's name.

5 Music should be marked with the first and last name, and music is to only be marked in pencil (no erasable pens)

6 Throw trash in trash cans, not on the floor.

7 Instruments go home every day unless special arrangements are made in advanced.

8 Listen to your child practice and offer encouragement and praise.

Thank you for your support,

Dennis Harps
